Speciation

1. Geographic
2. They are physically kept apart creating reproductive isolation.
3. Behavioral Isolation
4. The preference of fruit to lay eggs on keeps the populations from interbreeding.
5. Behavioral Isolation
6. The new crickets no longer have the same mating behavior.
7. Temporal
8. The grass blooms at different times of the year.
9. Geographic
10. The finch populations on different islands are physically separated by water.
11. Geographic
12. The fungi population is kept separate from other fungi populations by the activities of the ants.